

Throat Coughs

Ask your doctor about these throat coughs. He will tell you how deceptive they are. A tickling in the throat often means serious trouble ahead. Better explain your case carefully to your doctor, and ask him about your taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

We publish our formulas. We banish alcohol from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

Who makes the best liver pills? The J. C. Ayer Company, of Lowell, Mass. They have been making Ayer's Pills for over sixty years. If you have the slightest doubt about using these pills, ask your doctor. Do as he says, always.

THE HERALD.

Mesdames Oscar Fallen and Boone Oldfields, of Daysboro, visited friends in town Friday.

Misses Nancy and Sarah Sample visited their brother, Stephen Sample, at Campton, Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Charley Sample, of Maytown, came up Monday to visit her sister, Mattie Rose, who is quite ill.

Judge G. T. Center was a guest of C. F. Kash Sunday night, and left Monday morning for Lee City on legal business.

Sheriff John Will Cox passed through town Monday, en route to Lee City to serve some papers on a writ of delivery.

S. F. Reynolds has moved his saddle and harness shop from the Day property to the room next to Kash, Johnson & Kash.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

Jim Combs, of Lacy creek, has the thanks of the editor and his better seven-eighths for a fine mess of fresh mountain oysters.

Jolly John Murphy, of Murphy fork, has the thanks of the editor and his better seven-eighths for a fine mess of pork sweetbreads.

Joe Lee Wilson has rented his farm on Red river, near Amyx school house, and rented a farm from Ellis Johnson, on Lacy creek.

Miss Katie Galt Miller, of Louisville, who has been visiting her sister, Miss Florence, of H. G. A. faculty, left for her home Friday.

If you have any saddles or harness that need repairing take them to S. F. Reynolds and see how neatly and cheaply he can do the job.

Miss Roxie Daniel, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. Lucy McGuire, left for Morehead Friday for an extended visit with her grandfather.

Miss Lou Ward returned Monday from Louisville, where she had been to place the three Edwards children in the orphan's home.

Dr. A. C. Nickell left for Winchester Tuesday, accompanied by Mrs. Boone Oldfields, whom he takes there for a medical examination.

ONIONS WANTED—Any farmer having a bushel or two of good sound onions to dispose of can find a ready buyer by calling at THE HERALD office.

Curt Rose, representing Watts, Ritter & Co., Huntington, W. Va., with his wife and child, of Jackson, visited his parents here the first of the week.

Charley Rose, the hustling stock trader, was so indisposed the first of the week that a $100 yoke of young steers would not have interested him at half price.

For Sale—Two of the Pieratt cottages for less than the lumber and lot can be bought. One acre in each lot; five rooms in each house. Apply at this office.

Got a Ducking.

Some of our citizens were fishing in Red river Thursday last, including Mesdames Emma Evans and Ada Kash. The editor of this paper stepped upon the edge of the bank, where the high water had washed under, and in he went up to his arm pits. He had nothing to hold to, his back being towards the bank, and as he could not touch bottom he was in a precarious position, to say the least, when the ladies named rushed to his assistance and heroically rescued him at imminent peril to their own personal safety. When he shot in feet foremost Mrs. Kash, who was within 20 or 30 feet was the first to scream. She caught him by one shoulder and Mrs. Evans by the other and pulling manfully, or womanfully, they pulled him out. Persons nearby heard Mrs. Kash say, "Pull, Emma, pull," and Mrs. Evans replied, "I am pulling as hard as ever I can, but I have no place to brace myself and he is awfully heavy," (151 pounds.) While it was fun for the ladies they were scared all the same, and as the rescue was at their own risk, we insist that they should be awarded a Carnegie medal, as they already have our sincere thanks.

Temperance Rally.

As the Sunday schools have their regular quarterly temperance lesson for study next Sunday, the officers and teachers of the M. E. Sunday school want to especially introduce the lesson with the following

Card of Thanks.

The Lady Macabees of our town, of which my beloved wife was a devoted member, met at my residence Saturday afternoon last and did some much needed sewing for my motherless children, for which they have the thanks of my children and myself, individually and collectively. Through THE HERALD I wish to assure the ladies composing the party that I shall ever hold them in grateful remembrance and if possible at any time in some way prove my faith by reciprocating the kindness.

ELLIS JOHNSON AND CHILDREN.

A Falsehood Nailed.

In contradiction of the rumor that Hazel Green Academy has gone under we hear from authentic sources that by actual count there are twenty-two more students in actual attendance than ever before at this time of year. With this fact in view it is hard to tell what the motive for circulating such an uncalculated statement could have been. Anyhow every friend of the school can say on authority of THE HERALD that the statement is absolutely false, to use no more strenuous term.

Will Sue Wolfe County.

W. B. Culbertson, the gentleman who was crippled in the Spradling bridge disaster a year ago, has brought suit against the county of Wolfe for $3,000 damages. Since the accident he has been disabled and is now only able to get around on his crutch and cane. The only question in the case is whether or not the bridge had been properly condemned with due notice of the fact. From evidence adduced so far it seems that Mr. Culbertson has a case.

Again we wish to remind our correspondents that their manuscripts MUST reach this office not later than Monday evening, and that all communications for publication should be addressed "THE HERALD, Hazel Green, Ky." and not to any individual, else they may be overlooked.

PINE BLUFF PIE.

Mrs. John Ratliff is on the sick list.

Mrs. John E. Henry is still confined to her room.

Miss Ada Henry was visiting at Pine Bluff Sunday.

Walter M. Henry was in this section one day recently.

Farming seems to be the order of the day in this section.

Jess C. Henry made a business trip to Cannel City Monday.

Timber men have had some fine times to get their timber off.

Mrs. Wm. Patrick, of Netty, is visiting relatives at Pine Bluff.

Everett Ratliff was the guest of Miss Alice Henry at Pine Bluff.

Dan McKinsey, a timber man was in this neighborhood recently.

Jess C. Henry, who has been laid up with rheumatism, is able to be out again.

Vance Arnett, a pipe line man, passed through this section one day last week.

J. D. Youcum and wife were visiting with James R. Henry and family Sunday night.

Mrs. Nannie Cox and son, Jacob Oldham, and Miss Fannie Henry spent Monday evening with Mrs. John Cox.

March 22. UNCLE ZIP.

"Kentucky Arbor and Bird Day 1909" is the title of one of the handsomest and most interesting pamphlets sent out by any of the state departments. It is compiled by Mrs. J. G. Crabbe, wife of State Superintendent Crabbe, and replete with useful and interesting information for both teachers and pupils in the public schools.

We hereby acknowledge receipt of one through courtesy of State Superintendent Crabbe.

Some person or persons have circulated a report that the Hazel Green Academy faculty has been dismissed, all the scholars gone home and the principal resigned. It is impossible to tell who started this slander or the object in doing so. But there is no foundation in fact for it, as the school is now in a more prosperous condition than it ever was before at this time of the year.

Friday night last, at West Liberty, Mrs. Lou Dyer was robbed of the sum of $18. Two young men, one of them, her own son, called Cudgel Dyer, and Leroy Peyton, a son, as we hear it, of ex-Jailer Peyton, are accused of the crime, and as we have learned they have disappeared, things look suspicious against them.

The Hazel Green Ball Team need some money to buy bats, balls, etc., and every business man in town should contribute something. It is indeed a blind man who cannot see that a good ball team brings money to the town. Strangers come to see the game, and seven out of ten will spend some money.

Married, Thursday of last week, at the residence of the bride's parents, Supt. W. H. Chambers and wife, on Stillwater, Roscoe Wells and Miss Carrie Chambers. Mr. Wells is a merchant there, and Miss Carrie was until recently a student at the academy here.

J. F. Heinrich, the enterprising poultry merchant at Helechawa, has again placed us under obligations to him for a bountiful mess of those delightful rooster sweetbreads, for which he has the thanks of the editor and his better seven-eighths.

Crockett Rose, who recently married Miss Maud Hurst, has recently embarked in housekeeping on the Miles Wilson farm, on Lacy creek, the property of his father, Jeff M. Rose. The young folks of the neighborhood gave them a pounding.

Miss Falay Long, the milliner, is in receipt of a large part of her notions, dress skirts, and a lot of underwear. Her millinery property has not yet arrived, but for all that she has done a large business in the past few days.

Read Cecil Bros. new Spring ad in another column, then call on them and see how cheap they are selling.

KENTUCKY KERNELS

Carefully Collated and Concisely Chronicled.

Governor Willson has declared himself as against statewide prohibition and says he will not call an extraordinary session of the legislature to take action.

The little five-year-old son of Ira Berry, living in Mason county, while running across the dooryard, tripped and fell, breaking his neck and killing him instantly.

Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, aged 80 years, was burned to death at her home in Boyle county last Friday. Her eight-year-old grandson was badly burned in trying to save her.

The Court of Appeals has affirmed the $10,000 fine assessed by the Franklin Circuit court against the Indian Refinery company, of Georgetown, for polluting the waters of Elkhart creek with refuse from their refining plant.

Night riders are again beginning their dastardly work in the tobacco districts. In Nicholas county they are sowing grass seed and wheat in the tobacco beds, and in Caldwell and Christian counties the same state of affairs is said to exist.

Great excitement was caused at a revival in the Methodist church, in Brodhead, recently, when Mrs. Elizabeth Sowders, an invalid who had not walked for thirty years, jumped from her invalid chair during a sermon and walked across the room. She was overjoyed at her sudden recovery.

The Union station at the foot of Seventh street, in Louisville, used by five railroads entering that city, was destroyed by fire last Thursday, entailing a loss of $400,000. It is probable that Louisville will now have one large union station for all passenger trains, if the work of the Commercial club amounts to anything.

Mrs. Josephine Hazelrigg, widow of John T. Hazelrigg, died at the home of her son, Clarence Hazelrigg, at Clay City, Thursday last, as the result of injuries sustained in an accident about two weeks ago. Her remains were taken to Mt. Sterling Saturday and placed beside those of her husband in Machpelah cemetery.

State aid in building good roads in Kentucky was the rallying cry at a meeting of the board of directors of the Kentucky Good Roads association recently held in Louisville. To secure state aid the association will labor for the success of the Bosworth-Wyatt good road amendment to the constitution, which will be before the voters of the state at the next November election.

While engaged in chopping down a tree, in Pendleton county, William Gillen miscalculated his efforts to "stand from under" and was struck by the falling tree, fracturing his skull. A trephining operation was necessary and two large pieces of bone were taken out. He was alone at the time of the accident and walked home. It is thought that he will get well.

Curt Jett, who is serving a life term in the penitentiary for the killing of James B. Marcum, and who says he has been converted to christianity, has made an exemplary prisoner and is said to be one of the best biblical scholars in the prison. Jett has written a story of his conversion in which he says God has pardoned him, and thinks that Governor Willson should do likewise.

Asbury College, at Wilmore, one of the largest Holiness schools in the United States, was destroyed by fire last week. The fire started from a defective flue in the music hall, which is a frame building, and spread quickly to the administration building, which was a large brick building, and both were completely destroyed. Loss about $40,000, with $22,000 insurance.

Two ladies of Winchester have each a bottle of wine in their possession that is nearly two hundred years old. This wine has been handed down from generation to generation, with the request that the seals of the bottles be not broken. Naturally this wine is a prized possession, and the only reason the ladies have for withholding their names from publication is the fear that some old toper will rob them of their cherished treasure.—Winchester Democrat.
